Title: A randomized longitudinal dietary intervention study during pregnancy: effects on fish intake, phospholipids, and body composition

Version: 2 Date: 13 October 2014

Reviewer: Laura Deroma

Reviewer’s report:

The manuscript greatly improved after a deep and accurate revision - I still have just a couple of minor suggestions:

1) since the subgroup analysis was not decided before the study was conducted, just declare it;

2) since you wrote normality was checked graphically and non parametric tests were performed due to low numbers, just declare it.

Quality of written English: Acceptable

Statistical review: Yes, and I have assessed the statistics in my report.
