Title: Is Plasma Vitamin C an appropriate Biomarker of Vitamin C Intake? A Systematic Review and Meta-analysis

Version: 1  Date: 16 August 2007

Reviewer: girish rachakonda

Reviewer's report:

The authors clearly show that plasma Vitamin C can be the biomarker for intake. There are minor comments on this manuscript:

1. The author reviewed the literature very well, but included the data a year old (May 2006), can look up for newer literature and include the additional information.
2. Page 10: Results section: lane 9: change form the analysis to from the analysis.
