Version: 2 Date: 21 August 2013

Reviewer: Korrie de Koning

Reviewer's report:

I find that the authors replied well to the comments made. Readers will benefit from a well written and presented qualitative analysis of factors influencing community health worker motivation. The literature review adds substantially to the discussion of the findings and a synthesis of available knowledge. The focus of the article is very relevant considering the expanded use of CHWs in the field and contributes to intervention design of CHW programmes.

I recommend publication.
