Title: Conducting Appropriate Evaluations of Continuing Medical Education in Post-Conflict areas Is Essential to Assure Effectiveness-Qualitative Assessment in Nagorno Karabagh-A Qualitative Study

Version: 1 Date: 7 February 2014

Reviewer: Hugo Mercer

Reviewer’s report:

The manuscript addressed the relevant issue of keeping and encouraging health workforce’s motivation under conflict situations.

1. Improve the link between purpose of the study (pag. 5) and results. As it stands now only a few questions are being addressed.

2. pag 6. you mentioned that ...majority of the participants came from Stepanakert; and later it is being added that: participants in the discussion are from different cities. Are you talking about the FG participants?

3. There are some typos in the bibliography.

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Needs some language corrections before being published

Statistical review: No, the manuscript does not need to be seen by a statistician.
