Reviewer’s report

Title: Training evaluation: a case study of training Iranian health managers

Version: 1 Date: 12 November 2008

Reviewer: Abdulaziz Sharif Aden

Reviewer’s report:

1. The question posed by the authors is new in many countries of world, it is well defined and well written. The title and abstract are in inline with the data. As well the discussion and conclusion well balanced and supported by the data.

2. Minor essential revisions: There are in the text some abbreviations that the reader may have difficulties to understand. For instance, chapter one of the background IT; in page 6 through page 9 there are MOH&ME, NPMC and so forth. One can not assume that every reader knows these abbreviations.

3. It is an article of importance in its field. Therefore, it should be published after minor essential revisions.

Declaration of competing interests: Null.