Title: Shaping legal abortion provision in Ghana: using policy theory to inform evidenced-based practice

Version: 3 Date: 2 June 2013

Reviewer: Jane Harries

Reviewer's report:

The authors have comprehensively addressed the issues raised in the initial review and the article is in my opinion ready for submission without any further revisions.

I noted a typo in the abstract and would suggest the authors check for possible other typos. see below

While globally there is interest in midwives as providers of safe abortion services, we have [found] that in Ghana the midwife cadre display more negative attitudes to provision of safe-abortion-- found was missing.

Of possible interest to the authors is work done in SA on providers vis a vis abortion that might not have been available as a PhD thesis - if they are interested they can contact me.

An excellent article on abortion in Ghana.

Level of interest: An article of importance in its field

Quality of written English: Acceptable

Statistical review: No, the manuscript does not need to be seen by a statistician.
