Title: The 'placement' of people with profound Impairments across the lifespan: re-thinking age criteria

Version: 3 Date: 21 March 2014

Reviewer: Rob Imrie

Reviewer's report:

There is no need for me to provide a major review of this revised paper. The revisions to the original paper are very well done and I now feel that the paper is up to publishable standard. I do not really have anything of substance to say or to add - the authors have been very careful and attentive in their re-drafting of the original paper. It is an important piece of writing

Quality of written English: Acceptable
