Minor essential revisions

Dear editor

This manuscript includes a case report of bilateral multifocal extraglandular warthin tumor. It may be accepted for publication after the revision. It needs some revision..

1. In the Introduction section, it is mention that warthin tumor rarely multifocal, this statement must be checked by writers

2. The heterotopic salivary tissue and extraglandular salivary tumor are added to key words

3. The introduction, case report and discussion section is too long, some repetitions and grammatical errors

Level of interest: An article of importance in its field

Quality of written English: Needs some language corrections before being published
