Title: Esthesioneuroblastoma: One of the rare causes of proptosis

Version: 1 Date: 15 March 2013

Reviewer's report:
	his is a simple case report of a diagnosed case of Esthesioneuroblastoma. histopathological images are not presented. even the management is not described references consists mainly of case reports. there are multiple recent studies showing combined modality management strategies in esthesioneuroblastoma. these need to be added in references. lastly, i don't think that this report adds to the knowledge to the scientific society.
