Reviewer’s report

Title: Left ventricular endocardial ecchinococcosis associated with multiple intracranial hydatid cysts.

Version: 1 Date: 25 March 2013

Reviewer’s report:

I enjoyed reading the article and learned from the valuable information provided. The correlation between the cardiac and neurologic issues were particularly important. The surgical images are excellent and of high quality. The sequence of brain images and progressive improvement and lesion-resolution on medical therapy is impressive.

Minor revisions:

One additional important comment, the name of the patient should be removed from one of the images.
