Title: Evolving dimensions in medical case reporting

Version: 1 Date: 8 December 2010

Comments to authors:

I have read this paper carefully, and consider it a good summary of the journal's new approach to reporting individual medical cases. It is helpful to novices to the area, and summarises the role of the medium. It also makes useful suggestions on the applicability of case reports to new areas (such as patient safety, and educational material).

There are 2 minor errors which may be addressed to improve the paper:

1) Page 1, paragraph 1, line 11. A comma after “tools” may help improve readability

2) Page 2, header of last paragraph. “MCRs of a new diseases, …” Delete “a”
