Comments to authors:

General Comments
The manuscript is much improved. It requires only minor revisions to be published.

Minor Revisions
In the Introduction, first paragraph, line 14, remove “is” in sentence: During pregnancy “is” bone marrow…
In the Introduction, first paragraph, change the question “Is the immunosuppressive treatment more effective than supportive therapy consisting of erythrocytes and platelet transfusion and antibiotics?” to a general statement on the issue and introduce the case to be reported. The paper is a case report and thus does not address any specific research question.

In the case presentation section, end of second paragraph, remove “an” and “, i.e. unequal pupil sizes” in the sentence: “she had “an” anisocoria “, i.e. unequal pupil sizes”...
