Title: A Rare Coexistence of Non-Functional Adrenocortical Carcinoma and Multicentric Papillary Thyroid Microcarcinoma: a case report

Version: 2  Date: 21 May 2013

Comments to authors:

This case may be different for it’s rare togetherness. For that reason it has importance as a case report for the literature. I have little concerns as follows.

1) Abstract: Introduction; starting like “to report” is unusual. It’is better to start with regular sentences.

2) Case presentation: There is no data about metabolic status of the patient. Is he insulin resistant, even diabetic? The reason of co-incidence of 2 tumors may be from insulin resistance.
