Reviewer's report

Title: Occurrence of bladder metastasis 10 years after surgical removal of a primary gastric cancer. Case presentation and review of the literature.

Version: 2 Date: 20 February 2013

Reviewer: Sunil Shenoy

Which of the following following best describes what type of case report this is?: Unexpected or unusual presentations of a disease

Has the case been reported coherently?: Yes

Is the case report authentic?: Yes

Is the case report ethical?: Yes

Is there any missing information that you think must be added before publication?: Yes

Is this case worth reporting?: Yes

Is the case report persuasive?: Yes

Does the case report have explanatory value?: Yes

Does the case report have diagnostic value?: Yes

Will the case report make a difference to clinical practice?: Yes

Is the anonymity of the patient protected?: Yes

Comments to authors:

General comments

While the number of such reported cases may be infrequent due to the excluding of ‘case report’ section from almost all important indexed journals, the actual incidence may be indeed far higher. However, since JMCR is dedicated to providing a platform for case reporting, the manuscript in question may be considered for publication.

Revisions necessary for publication

The entire manuscript is in dire need of revision with respect to grammatical errors, shortening of sentences, and occasional spell errors. Presentation in the right format adds value to the manuscript as well as sustains the standard of the Journal.

Comments:
The case report is well compiled but lacks brevity and grammatical correctness. Why a PET scan was not done before cystoscopy and transurethral resection remains unanswered. If positive metastases were discovered elsewhere, then, bladder involvement would have been a part of a generalized dissemination and the manuscript value would decline considerably.

Quality of written English: Needs some language corrections before being published

Declaration of competing interests:

I declare that I have no competing interests.