Comments to authors:

I have gone through the revised article on Necrotising Fasciitis and the Cover Letter written by the Authors to Editor. I found that most of the changes I had suggested in the manuscript along with the changes suggested by the Editorial team have been incorporated by the Authors. These include changes in the text, corrections in the language etc. The Authors have also provided most of the additional information/photos suggested. Some information (Special investigations) were not done and hence could not be included. The additional photos requested (photo of the second patient on arrival and her intra-operative photo) could not be provided as the authors do not have these photos.
