Version: 2 Date: 30 September 2012

Major compulsory revisions:
none

Minor essential revision:

This resubmission is a much improved manuscript that now better specifies the required issues.

There are still some minor points:
Table 1 should be completed with no blank spaces. For example, instead of “?” in the second column, the word unknown or not yet known could be included, and so on. In addition, there are many many typos, e.g. systemic instead of sistemic, lenticular instead of lenticualr.
KCOT is the abbreviation of keratocystic odontogenic tumors and not of odontogenic keratocystic tumors (see abstract). The word spelling should also be mentioned in the introduction and not only in the abstract.
When writing “is not” is preferred than “isn’t”.
When exactly the patient was born does not need to be mentioned in the text. The age is enough.
