Title: Effect of interscalene block on intraocular pressure and ocular perfusion pressure

Version: 0 Date: 24 Jul 2017

Reviewer: Luciano QUARANTA

Reviewer's report:

The authors has performed an interesting and original investigation on modification of OPP and IOP after interescalene block. Some major issue should be solved before considering publication: 1. First of all more detailed methodology on IOP assessment should be given 2. OPP and IOP should be corrected for the sitting or supine position (please refer to Quaranta et al Surv Ophthalmology 2013) 3. IOP and OPP should be measured either in sitting or in supine position 4. Discussion should take into account IOP and OPP modifications correlated with modification of body position
