Version: 1 Date: 27 Dec 2019

Reviewer: İsk Alper

Reviewer's report:

This study is about the effect of postoperative trendelenburg position on shoulder pain after gynecological laparoscopic procedures. There are many interventions mentioned in the literature on shoulder pain following laparoscopic gynecologic surgery. However trendelenburg position is not listed as one of the possible interventions in the literature. So the study can give new information to the literature.
