Reviewer's report

Title: Non-specific complaints in the ambulance; predisposing structural factors.

Version: 3
Date: 24 February 2015

Reviewer: Christian Backer Mogensen

Reviewer's report:

the majority of reviewer comments have been taken into consideration.

Minor Essential Revisions:

line 170-172 and table 1: a difference of change in priority from high to low reaching 33% to 31% is not statistical significant, but has a p value of around 0.30.

change in priority from low to high among cases of 3/182 = 1.6%, not 3%

table 2: table has improved much. suggest to arrange the columns:
number of Pre.H NCS; number of Pre-h. controls; univar; multivari. and omitting the last OR of 1.00.

Level of interest: An article of importance in its field

Quality of written English: Acceptable

Statistical review: Yes, and I have assessed the statistics in my report.
