Title: Do Male and Female Trauma Patients Receive the Same Prehospital Care?: An Observational Follow-Up Study

Version: 3 Date: 28 November 2015

Reviewer: Gerry FitzGerald

Reviewer's report:

The authors have addressed the previous review comments satisfactorily. I find the results puzzling as they imply either discrimination or underestimation of the severity of trauma amongst women and perhaps this is worthy of further research and analysis.

Level of interest: An article of importance in its field
