Reviewer's report:

Thank for submitting such a great manuscript. The paper including all sections are very well written. The authors provide a clear aim and detailed methodology. They also report the limitations of the study and recommend further studies to examine the feasibility of their recommendations. Therefore I recommend accepting this manuscript without any changes.

I can see the importance of this study, and sure it will be an interest for ED staff and management.

Please note that I submitted this review in August, not sure why I received this reminder
