I think the authors did a nice job responding to the critiques of the reviewers. The paper hangs together much better and I think provides a nice set of recommendations and a framework for other researchers to apply to this type of work.

I would like the authors to ensure that Tables 2, and 3 are consistent with what is in text. I think conceptually everything is in line but keep the wording consistent and precise for everything. As an example, the named strategies in Table 2 are not perfectly replicated in text.
