Title: Attempting rigour and replicability in thematic analysis of qualitative research data; a case study of codebook development

Version: 0 Date: 13 Nov 2018

Reviewer: André-Anne Parent

Reviewer's report:

The author should further identify the literature on qualitative research and thematic analysis, what is proposed is already in the guidelines. In addition, the codebooks would be useless data in the articles, whose richness is rather in the extracts of interviews.
