Title: External validation study of a clinical decision aid to reduce unnecessary antibiotic prescriptions in women with acute cystitis

Version: 0 Date: 07 Jun 2017

Reviewer: Ai Theng Cheong

Reviewer's report:

This is an interesting paper and very relevant to the clinical practice in primary care. The result could be very useful to the primary care practitioner in the studied population. The usefulness of this result to the developing country needs to be further investigated. The information provided in the article is clear and well written.
