Title: Diagnostic behaviour of general practitioners when suspecting Lyme disease: a database study from 2010-2015

Version: 2 Date: 08 Dec 2017

Reviewer: Agnetha Hofhuis

Reviewer's report:
I agree with the authors on their answer to reviewer 2 Eugene D Shapiro.
Due to the way of health care organisation in the Netherlands, general practitioners indeed see the majority of patients with a-specific symptoms and thus the lowest pre-test probability.
The authors could consider to make this more clear for the non-Dutch readers, by incorporating some answers to reviewer 2 into their introduction or discussion.
