Title: The EPIYA-ABCC motif pattern in CagA of Helicobacter pylori is associated with peptic ulcer and gastric cancer in Mexican population

Version: 6 Date: 12 December 2014

Reviewer: Dionyssios Sgouras

Reviewer’s report:

In reviewing the point-to-point rebuttal, I feel that the authors have made a very honest attempt to address sufficiently well, all the points I raised, whether they were major compulsory, minor essential or discretionary. Adequate answers to major compulsory points have been incorporated in the revised document. The minor essential points have been sufficiently addressed. I have no further comments.
