Title: Endovascular management of hemosuccus pancreaticus, a rare case report of gastrointestinal bleeding

Version: 0 Date: 30 Oct 2015

Reviewer: Sadiq Sikora

Reviewer’s report:

Interesting case report of hemosuccus pancreaticus treated with a peripheral stent.

1. The author presumes the cause as chronic pancreatitis although patient has no evidence of that. The authors should have discussed other causes of aneurysm of visceral artery and presented in the manuscript.

2. Placement of a peripheral stent has the benefits of preserving the flow to spleen, nevertheless it would have been appropriate if discussion on embolisation of splenic artery and the results of its outcome in terms of complications had been presented.

3. What are the limitations of placing a stent - in terms of size of aneurysm, location etc?

4. Follow up CT scan pictures as mentioned in the manuscript should be added

Minor issue - Spelling of reference - Sandblom on page 3 line 6 needs to be corrected.
