Title: Fitz-Hugh Curtis syndrome associated with tuberculous salpingitis and peritonitis: a case presentation and review of literature

Version: 1 Date: 17 Feb 2018

Reviewer: Govind Makharia

Reviewer’s report:

In the case report, the authors have described occurrence of a combination of perihepatitis, pelvic inflammatory disease and exudative peritonitis, Fitz-Hugh-Curtis syndrome, due to Mycobacterium tuberculosis.

The association between a clinical syndrome (Fitz-Hugh-Curtis syndrome) and tuberculosis is strong, as authors observed a positive Mycobacterial culture from the site of the disease and response to therapy.

Comment: The abstract is too long, that should be shortened only to highlight the key findings.
