Title: Encapsulating peritoneal sclerosis in a patient after allogeneic hematopoietic stem cell transplantation

Version: 2 Date: 20 Apr 2018

Reviewer: Simon J Davies

Reviewer's report:

This is an very interesting case report - which is well presented.

I agree with the patient's diagnosis.

Provides some insight into the mechanisms of EPS

Minor comments.

Abstract conclusion: "Our case suggests that EPS may be complicated in patents with cGVHD associated serositis" - should read "EPS may complicate patients with cGVHD associated serositis"

Given the suggestion that the inflammatory serositis led to the subsequent development of fibrosis and the development of EPS, it would be nice to mention more recent research in PD patients suggesting that intraperitoneal inflammation is very variable in PD, but does seem to predispose to EPS later e.g.
