Title: A PTPN11 Mutation in a Woman with Noonan Syndrome and Protein-Losing Enteropathy

Version: 0 Date: 09 Dec 2019

Reviewer: Shinichi Morita

Reviewer's report:

This case is a report of protein losing enteropathy of Noonan syndrome, and considered as a valuable report.

However, I would like you to consider the following points.

1. In this case, dietary therapy has been useful for reducing edema.

Please consider dietary treatment for protein losing enteropathy (low fat diet, etc.)

2. Endoscopic images are not enough quality and the snowflake appearance that the author considers important is unclear. Please improve image quality and point important findings with arrows. Please use the arrows etc. for CT images to match the findings and figure legends.

3. In figure2, the patient number of II2 is incorrect. Also, please add a description of the gene mutation part so that it is easier to understand.

I think that it is necessary to add explanation also about figure3.

Are the methods appropriate and well described?
If not, please specify what is required in your comments to the authors.

Yes

Does the work include the necessary controls?
If not, please specify which controls are required in your comments to the authors.

Unable to assess

Are the conclusions drawn adequately supported by the data shown?
If not, please explain in your comments to the authors.

Yes
Are you able to assess any statistics in the manuscript or would you recommend an additional statistical review?
If an additional statistical review is recommended, please specify what aspects require further assessment in your comments to the editors.
