Title: Can resources moderate the impact of levels of frailty on adverse outcomes among (pre-) frail older people? A longitudinal study.

Version: 0 Date: 14 Apr 2017

Reviewer: Nancye May Peel

Reviewer’s report:

The authors have researched an important topic addressing, in a longitudinal study in a large sample, whether resources can moderate the impact of frailty on adverse outcomes. Limitations of the study, including a relatively high percentage of missing data on some outcomes at follow-up and exclusion of non-frail persons, have been addressed by the authors.
