PEER REVIEWER COMMENTS:

GENERAL COMMENTS: The authors have addressed my major concerns by breaking the project up into multiple components instead of including everything in one paper. By presenting just the quantitative data, the findings are more easily understood instead of getting lost in too much detail.

While there are still many abbreviations that readers who aren't familiar with this instrument may not recognize, the authors have addressed this concern by providing a comprehensive list of abbreviations and streamlined their use throughout.

I appreciate the detailed responses to original review comments and believe that all of my concerns have been addressed in this revision.

ADDITIONAL REQUESTS/SUGGESTIONS:

I'm not sure that translating a survey that's written in English into other languages automatically results in cultural sensitivity or appropriateness.

I would like to see 1-2 more sentences (page 9) to clarify how you ensured cultural sensitivity. Perhaps a clearer explanation of what you mean by pilot testing it with the different ethnic groups and discussion of what changes were made if needed.

Are the methods appropriate and well described?
If not, please specify what is required in your comments to the authors.

Yes

Does the work include the necessary controls?
If not, please specify which controls are required in your comments to the authors.

Are the conclusions drawn adequately supported by the data shown?
If not, please explain in your comments to the authors.

Are you able to assess any statistics in the manuscript or would you recommend an additional statistical review?
