Title: Psychometric properties of the Geriatric Quality of Life-Dementia in older adults with dementia or mild cognitive impairment living in nursing homes

Version: 0 Date: 24 Jun 2019

Reviewer: Maria Gomez-Gallego

Reviewer's report:

The manuscript is well-written, well-designed and the statistical analysis is appropriate. The results might be extrapolated to the nursing home settings. However, the discussion and interpretation of the results should be improved. It would be advisable to describe the causes of the differences in the domains of quality of life between community dwelling patients and nursing-home patients.
