Title: Effect of anthelminthic treatment on helminth infection and related anaemia among schoolage children in northwestern Ethiopia

Version: 0 Date: 24 Jun 2016

Reviewer: Bonnie Webster

Reviewer's report:

This is a well written and informative piece of research that shows the benefits of de worming. I am pleased to accept this for publication. The english can be improved in places but this in minor. I would suggest improving the manuscript by adding to the introduction some information about these diseases as NTD's their transmission and the long term goals for NTD transmission.
