Title: Guillain-Barre syndrome associated with hemorrhagic fever with renal syndrome in China: a case report

Version: 0 Date: 08 Nov 2017

Reviewer: Fanfan Xing

Reviewer's report:

HFRS is an endemic and epidemic infectious disease in China, particularly in Heilongjiang, Jilin, Liaoning and Shaanxi province. Most of clinicians concentrate more on prevention of bleeding, recovery of renal function, secondary infections and/or cardiovascular events during the progress of the disease. The manuscript will make our clinical doctors aware of the neurological complication during patients' convalescence in the future, which may guide researchers to discover more about the characteristics of the virus.
