Dear Authors,

The paper is basically nice but some comments are listed in below for revision,

- The English needs a major-polish. I am also not native in English so I can feel this comment very well, please ask an expert in dealing with this comment.

- References are not properly according to the guidelines by BMC collection, please correct them.

- Methods and results seem fine but I am satisfied by the discussion. Indeed, I prefer to see a good literature review on this topic and also emphasis on the topic and rationale for this research. However, it is mandatory to elucidate why you as principle investigator chose this title and research question then jump into the discussion. Please consider this item and revise the paper. I can also give you some suggestions to increase the richness of question marks behind your primary idea to write this paper,

- look! this is not a good straight forward conclusion: Conclusion

215 In conclusion, this study demonstrated low prevalence of H.pylori infection (36.8%) compared to previous studies in Ethiopia. Prevalence of H.Pylori was significantly associated with low income and low educational status. Age, family number, toilet and other proposed risk factors in this study were not significantly associated.

Thus revise it for sure!
