I’m glad to see the revised manuscript is now perfectly understandable and has been highly improved.

Just a small correction to be made: when you talk in the discussion about the median hospitalization of 49 days, and you cite the article from davido et al. germs of thrones, there is a misunderstanding. The article does only say that 1/2 adults individuals hospitalized are free from carriage after a median of 49 days. It does not talk about acquisition of CRE. Please correct it so it does not refer to a wrong citation for the readers.

Thank you for your work.
