Title: Monoallelic Characteristic-Bearing Heterozygous L1053X in BRCA2 Gene among Sudanese women with Breast Cancer

Version: 1 Date: 31 Mar 2017

Reviewer: Valeria D’Argenio

Reviewer's report:

The paper has been greatly improved after revisions made to answer to reviewers remarks.

However, in the current form, some doubts about the scientific added value of the work still remains. In a general context, considering the diffusion of BRCA genes testing and the technologies currently used for this purpose, this work seems to be too poor. However, considered in its geographic context, it could be more enhanced considering the lack of data regarding BRCA mutations in some countries.

This aspect should be highlighted in the manuscript.
