Title: Successful treatment of highly advanced immunoglobulin G4-related kidney disease presenting renal mass-like regions with end-stage kidney failure: a case study

Version: 0 Date: 16 Nov 2015

Reviewer: Stephen Smith

Reviewer's report:

This is a clearly written case report and the images are excellent. The authors make two important points: (1) treatment with steroids may be beneficial even when the patient presents with uremia and requires dialysis; and (2) results of imaging studies may be different than reported previously. More detail on the prednisone taper schedule the patient received would be welcomed.
