Title: Implementation of guidelines for multidisciplinary team management of pregnancy in women with pre-existing diabetes or cardiac conditions: Results from a UK national survey

Version: 0 Date: 02 Oct 2017

Reviewer: Jeremy Oats

Reviewer's report:

A salutary review of current models of care of complex pregnancies that will be of international interest.

For the reader not familiar with the UK specialist terminology, could you clarify the difference between a "diabetologist" and an "endocrinologist"?

Table 6 please clarify what the numbers and the figures in parenthesis refer to.

Would be fascinating to compare the maternal/fetal outcomes from the various "models".
