Title: Perceptions, careseeking, and experiences pertaining to non-cephalic births in rural Sarlahi District, Nepal: a qualitative study

Version: 1 Date: 23 Feb 2017

Reviewer: Shawn Walker

Reviewer's report:

This manuscript reads considerably better than the first submission. I feel the authors have reflected on the feedback, and the results are a useful and interesting article. The results describe the complexity of the situation concerning care for women with a non-cephalic-presenting fetus in rural Nepal, and can be used by policy makers planning culturally sensitive improvements in care, as well as future researchers.
