OTES TO THE AUTHOR
Thank you for the opportunity to read and review your paper. It addresses an important subject, and your study appears to have been an interesting one. My comments are:

1. In the background part, the researcher explains about the recent study where 48% women in Iran chose caesarean section as a delivery choice. How about your country data? Then, How about the reason women chose CS except feeling worried or fear?
2. I thought the researcher tend to showed many data and many research from others researcher, however did not explain why the study is needed to do in your country. Explaining about what the effect of CS, process of healing and so on is needed to be explaining.
