Reviewer's report:

The manuscript is well written and informative. The study objectives are clearly written. The discussion however, has a few speculations rather than facts especially regarding the reason behind the increase in the private sector deliveries. Each speculation could be true but evidences should be provided too. The data presentation could be simplified by giving strata of the population i.e. wealthy or poor. The five regions mentioned in manuscript would be confusing for a non Egyptian and within the Table provided, these region were not portrayed.
