Title: Irreversible electroporation versus radiotherapy after induction chemotherapy on survival in patients with locally advanced pancreatic cancer: a propensity score analysis

Version: 1 Date: 04 Apr 2019

Reviewer: Shinpei Ogino

Reviewer's report:

This resubmitted paper is a well-written research article dealing with the benefits of IRE after chemotherapy in patients with LAPC compared to radiotherapy after chemotherapy in regards to not only the treatment effects but also toxicity and complications.

The objective of this resubmitted paper was very curious and interesting, thus the paper should be considered to be eligible for publication, in my opinion.
