Title: Postoperative chemoradiotherapy is superior to postoperative chemotherapy alone in squamous cell lung cancer patients with limited N2 lymph node metastasis

Version: 0 Date: 26 Apr 2019

Reviewer's report:

This is an interesting retrospective analysis, as the role of PORT in N2-NSCLC remains unknown. Your study may offer a possible clue for clinical options. But some points need to clarify:

1. No detailed figure legends were provided for figures, especially for figure 2.
2. The paper didn't show the ROC curve of the cut-off number of MLNs.
3. In your conclusion, you mentioned POCRT should be recommended particularly for T4 disease. I think it's not strong enough to draw that conclusion because of too small samples in this subgroup.

Are the methods appropriate and well described?
If not, please specify what is required in your comments to the authors.

Yes

Does the work include the necessary controls?
If not, please specify which controls are required in your comments to the authors.

Yes

Are the conclusions drawn adequately supported by the data shown?
If not, please explain in your comments to the authors.

Yes

Are you able to assess any statistics in the manuscript or would you recommend an additional statistical review?
If an additional statistical review is recommended, please specify what aspects require further assessment in your comments to the editors.

I am able to assess the statistics
