Title: Treating childhood intermittent distance exotropia: a qualitative study of decision making

Version: 2 Date: 12 June 2015

Reviewer: Anna Horwood

Reviewer’s report:

All my previous concerns have been addressed and the piece is easier for a wider audience now. There are a few very minor typos / word order points which could be changed.

line 109 and 568. I initially thought that this was a typo and should have been "incorporates patient preferences and values", but when "incorporates preferences and patient values" cropped up again I was not sure. Could you check which is correct.

Perhaps the sentence about the Declaration of Helsinki on line 141 should come before the method description?
