Title: Congenital Aniridia with Cataract: Case series

Version: 0 Date: 25 Dec 2016

Reviewer: Sang Beom Han

Reviewer's report:

This is an interesting study that showed the results of the combination surgery of phacoemulsification, posterior chamber foldable lens implantation and capsular tension ring placement in the patients with congenital aniridia and coexistent cataract.

Although the manuscript seems to be incomplete and does not seem to be a final version, I believe the manuscript can be considered for publication after the correction of mistakes.
