Title: Subretinal echinococcosis: a case report

Version: 1 Date: 23 Oct 2016

Reviewer: Kazuichi Maruyama

Reviewer's report:

The authors’ explanation for the estimation based on the revised results is almost sufficient. However, author did not explain why author did not perform angiography in present case. Author insisted that iris neovascularization in present case was caused by ischemic, not inflammation. So, author should prove it. If the patient had the allergy for fluorescence, author should explain it in the manuscript.
