Title: Bisphosphonate-Induced Orbital Inflammation in a Patient on Chronic Immunosuppressive Therapy

Version: 0 Date: 05 Jan 2019

Reviewer: Ariel Schlaen

Reviewer’s report:

This an interesting and well written case report on an immunosuppressed patient who suffered an orbital inflammation presumably due to a recent intravenous administration of zoledronic acid. Notwithstanding, there are few minor observations that should be revised in order to improved it:

A dose or 25 mg daily of cyclosporine is too low to obtain an immunomodulatory effect. Please, revise if this was the actual dose. It is better to express the dose of medication per kg per day.
