Reviewer's report:

Generally this is an interesting manuscript reporting Adjunctive Dexamethasone Implant in Patients with Atopic Dermatitis and Retinal Detachment Undergoing Vitrectomy and Silicone Oil Tamponade. I have the following comments.

1. Please clarify whether silicone oil is still inside the eyeball at the final follow up.

2. Please describe in detail the outcome of IOP, for example, whether the IOP was controlled with drugs and/or surgery?

3. One major limitation of current study is lack of control. Therefore, it is difficult to make a conclusion whether the implantation of Dexamethasone improve the outcome.

Are the methods appropriate and well described?
If not, please specify what is required in your comments to the authors.
